

IMISCOE Research Initiative “Norms and Values in Migration and Integration” (NOVAMI)

In collaboration with H2020 NoVaMigra Project (Norms and Values in the European Migration and Refugee Crisis)

Malmö WORKSHOP, 18-19 MAY 2020

Introduction: Values in multidisciplinary migration research
Brigitte Suter and Ingrid Jerve Ramsøy, Malmö University

Value transformation

How Different Social Norms Resist Change while Others Change Gradually – A Survey Study of Non-European Migrants in Sweden

Bi Puranen, Institute for Future studies and World Values Survey Association

Negotiating Normative Orders of Violence and Protection in Collective Refugee Accommodations in Germany

J. Olaf Kleist, Dimitra Dermitzaki, Bahar Oghalai, DeZIM Berlin

Migrant Acculturation to Tolerance: Insights from the Frontier of Human Emancipation

Bi Puranen, Institute for Future Studies and World Values Survey Association; Amy C. Alexander, Gothenburg University; Christian Welzel, Leuphana University

Value transformation

How to be “Welcoming” towards Migrants? Values Transmission between Citizens and Institutions in Barcelona’s Reception Scheme

Louise Hombert, Université Paris Dauphine

Whose Sweden? Communicating Swedish Values through Curators of Sweden

Sayaka Osanami Törngren, Malmö University

Marriage norms among Muslims in Italy

Amal Alqawasmī, University Milano-Bicocca

When Value-Talk Evokes National Unity: Investigating Mediatized Responses to Terrorism in France and Norway

Rojan Tordhol Ezzati, PRIO

Value circulation

Creating Spaces of Care and Honor in Istanbul: Reclaiming Cultural Values and Familial Roles through Syrian Hospitality

Susan Rottman, Özyeğin University; Maissam Nimer, Koç University and Sabancı University

“The lost Swedish-Afghani Boys”: Processes of Moral Solidarity between Swedish Activists and Afghani Asylum Seekers in Europe

Dora Rebelo, ISCTE-IUL, researcher at CRLA

The Circulation of Values through Integration Work in Sweden

Brigitte Suter & Ingrid Jerve Ramsøy, Malmö University

Panel discussion: The circulation, transmission, transformation of values in migration

Christian Fernández, Malmö University; Karen Suyemoto, University of Massachusetts Boston; Synnøve Bendixsen, University of Bergen